APPOINTED TO NATIONAL
SODALITY BOARD*COLLEGE ELECTS OFFICERS*Former Prefect, Dorothy Walz, Presides Over Election of Jeanne Gier
And Other 1933-34 Officers

St. Teresa has been honored by the appointment of Jeanne Gier, sophomore college student, to a position on the National Advisory Board of College Sodality, an organization under the leadership of Father Lord, with headquarters in St. Louis. Miss Gier will represent the College Sodality Council in Kansas City.

College Sodality Elects Officers

The College Sodality held its first meeting of the year on Thursday, September 28. Sister Pachomia, moderator of the society, was present. The meeting was presided over by Miss Dorothy Walz, former prefect. The principal business was the election of officers for the 1933-34 school term. The following girls were elected: Jeanne Gier, prefect; Catherine O'Connor, vice-prefect; Rita Jean Dey, secretary; and Mary Ellen Gavin, treasurer.

During the meeting, spiritual activities were discussed. It was decided that the members would meet once a month, and would recite the office of the Blessed Virgin in the chapel.

The sodality is looking forward to an address which is to be delivered to the entire student body by Father Arthur Evans, S. J., Thursday, October 19.

FRESHMEN LEAD CONTEST

The academy division of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin held its initial meeting Friday, September 29, in the Senior room.

The new officers took over their duties, and each in turn urged the members to take active part in the work of the Sodality.

The freshman class carried on individual contests during September. The first contest was for the purpose of collecting magazines for the missions. Miss Betty Murphy surpassed all rivals by collecting 242 magazines. Ranking second was Miss Genevieve Zahner, who contributed 155. The stamp contest was won by Miss Mary Louise Hauber.

The October contest came as a challenge from the Sophomores, but, to date, the freshmen are in the lead.

CLASS RING STANDARDIZED

The class of '34 has the honor of standardizing a ring for their Alma Mater, St. Teresa.

For sixty years, the graduates of St. Teresa have cherished the traditional St. Teresa medal. Now, the class of '34 has voted to standardize a St. Teresa ring, with the same design as the medal.

A Maltese cross forms the base of the ring. On the sides of this cross is engraved the school motto, "Deo Adiuvante Non Timendum." In the center of the cross on a square of gold, surrounded with pearls, is the raised insignia, S. T. A.

ROSALIE MOORE IN EUROPE

Rosalie Moore of the Academy class of 1933 is now attending the Sacred Heart Convent at Brussels, Belgium. Her cousins, Miss Helen Franklin of St. Louis, and Miss Grace O'Malley of Boston accompanied her, and are also attending the Sacred Heart Convent.

The three girls expect to go to Rome for the second semester of their school work. They will return home sometime in June.

Through her mother, Mrs. Genevieve Moore, Rosalie has sent greetings to her friends at St. Teresa. Rosalie's present address is 9 Rue du Grand Cerf, Brussels, Belgium.

BAZAAR DECEMBER 1

The students of the College and Academy are to give a Bazaar December 1, the proceeds of which are to be used to pay for repairs on the heating plant. They extend an invitation to all the friends of St. Teresa to aid them in this undertaking.

SOPHOMORES RELAX*Miss Hill's Outing Held on Columbus Day Proves Very Enjoyable
to Students

October 12! On how many calendars in homes of College Sophomores was this eventful day encircled with red. Of course you will think it but a fitting observance of Columbus Day, but in this surmise you will be mistaken. This was the day for the fall outing promised by Miss E. Hill to the Sophomore Class.

The day, contrary to all school picnic rules, was just cool enough to be invigorating, and the unclouded skies held no threats of rain. At twelve o'clock, cars filled with eager girls blocked the entrance to Miss Hill's home where provisions were obtained. From there, drivers endeavored to be first to reach the designated spot in Swope Park. All honors for quick turns and broken rules are given to Miss Marian Fry, who set the pace. After arriving at their destination the picnickers quickly unpacked their supplies, and the outing was officially begun.

Unknown talent was discovered in the Sophomores for the difficult task of fire-making, and soon a blaze was awaiting the chef par excellence, Miss Hill. So that there need not be public embarrassment the actual amount of food consumed will not be printed here, but it is certain that many mothers, who had instilled into their daughters the phrase "Don't ask for a second helping," would have been astonished at the result of their teaching. Absolute harmony reigned until the doughnut and cup-cake claimants divided into separate parties, but after the consummation of all evidence, peace again was supreme. After a few pictures were taken to commemorate the occasion, the girls took a short walk and then convened again at the home of Miss Hill.

Bridge seemed to be next in the order of the day, and Miss Finnegan arrived just in time to make a needed fourth. After bridge, various games were played, until the girls, fearful lest wondering parents be alarmed, departed for home after giving Miss Hill the largest thank-you bouquet of the year for what all termed "a simply perfect time."

ENROLLMENT INCREASES

The enrollment at St. Teresa Junior College has shown a marked increase over that of previous years. With an attendance of forty-one, the freshman class becomes the largest ever enrolled in the college department. Affiliated with the college is St. Joseph's School for Nurses, which has a membership of seventy-eight this year.

There are at least twelve different schools represented. Eleven of St. Teresa's own high school graduates are back. Redemptorist is the runner up with ten representatives; St. Vincent's numbers three; Central, Southwest and St. Agnes two each; St. Aloysius, Loretta, Westport and Kansas City Junior College one. There are three out-of-town members, one from St. Mary's school in Independence, Missouri, another from Pierce City high school in Pierce City, Missouri, and a third from Calumet high school in Chicago.

NEW DEBATING SYSTEM
INAUGURATED IN COLLEGE
PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS*MISS HILL TRIES DEBATERS*Changes Made So That Everyone
Participates in Encounters
Of Future Teams

A new system of informal debating was inaugurated this year in the College Public Speaking Class. Miss Hill, director of the college debating group, made tests of this system at Northwestern University, where she studied this summer. A series of trial debates in which all members of the class took part was held during the first two weeks of October.

The first question: "Resolved, That members of the President's cabinet should be members of the Senate, with all privileges except the right to vote," was debated by a group consisting of Mary Elizabeth Dooley, Roberta Coffey, Mary Margaret Cashin, affirmative; and Jeanne Gier, Anita Boschert, and Mary Dussillier, negative.

After the first trial a small change in the order of speaking was made. So that everyone might participate in the work, the future teams were to be composed of four each. This scheme worked successfully in the next encounter on the question, "Resolved, That it would be to the advantage of both countries to annex Canada to the United States." The affirmative was upheld by Jeanne Kessler, Mary Ellen Gavin, Marguerite Lodde, and Marjorie Gleason. Dorothy Flynn, Kathleen Ryan, Margaret Monahan, and Mary Margaret Cashin were the negative speakers.

The final debate in which Stella Elizabeth Shea, Mary Catherine Stanley, Rita Jean Dey and Joanne Lester upheld the affirmative, and Jane Dugan, Elizabeth O'Brien, Marjorie Scanlon, and Edwina Cunningham the negative, was on the question, "Resolved, That modern advertising is harmful to the consumer."

These debates were held principally that the students might learn the correct method of gathering material. The members of the college debate squad will be chosen from this group. Only two members from last year's team, Dorothy Walz and Jeanne Gier, will be active this year.

FRITSCHY PROGRAM
FEATURES LILY PONS*Block of Seats Reserved for Season
By Windmoor Students
And Chaperons

A number of St. Teresa students will again attend the Fritschy Concerts which open at Convention Hall, November 14, with the presentation of Lily Pons. A block of seats has been reserved for the season by the St. Teresa girls and their chaperons.

Miss Pons, famous for her works in Metropolitan Opera, has been hailed by many famous critics as the greatest living coloratura soprano. She is of French and Italian parentage, and from childhood showed pronounced musical gifts. Originally she studied piano at the Paris Conservatoire, but gradually the idea of a piano career suffered eclipse and Miss Pons decided to be a singer.

On January 3, 1931, she made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera House. Her future performances kept pace in quality with the praise of the press, and her exquisite personality endeared her to the public. Before the first season was over, she was an undisputed success.

Rachmaninoff, Ruggiero Ricci, and Tita Schipa will appear in concerts on December 5, January 23, and February 20, respectively.

COLLEGE FORMALLY OPENS WITH MASS OF THE HOLY GHOST*GUILD HAS LUNCHEON

The first luncheon and business meeting of the St. Teresa College Guild was held Monday, October 2, in the school dining room. The following hostesses were in charge: Mrs. J. P. Bryne, Mrs. Charles Dorney, Mrs. R. J. Gleason, Mrs. F. E. Dugan, Mrs. W. L. Ferrier, Mrs. G. I. Fitzgerald, Mrs. George Harrington, Mrs. W. E. Hogan, Mrs. A. A. Klughartt, Mrs. F. A. Miller and Mrs. Genevieve Moore.

Preceding the regular meeting a luncheon was served at one o'clock. During the meeting the minutes were read and a report was made on the annual Guild dinner, given last June. Mother Marcella welcomed the members with a brief address. Mrs. Carlton Logan spoke on current topics and reviewed the recent best seller, "As the Earth Turns," by Carroll.

An announcement was made that the next luncheon of the Guild will be held Monday, November 6. An invitation to attend is extended to all the mothers of the students in the college and academy, and also to all the friends of the school.

NEW ACCESSIONS BY COLLEGE LIBRARY*Senior Gift Includes Many Valuable
Volumes of Interest
To Students

During the summer months a number of books and periodicals were furnished this department. The academy graduating class of 1933 completed the set of Dr. Ludwig Pastor's "Lives of the Popes" by supplying ten additional volumes. Their contribution also included the following: The Deer Slayer, James Fenimore Cooper.

Swiss Family Robinson, David Wyss. Danton, Louis Mandelin. Types of Poetry, Zeithin Rinaker. Thiers and the French Monarchy, John M. Allison. The Diaries of John Bright, Edited by R. A. J. Walling. Side Lights of Queen Victoria, Sir Frederick Ponsonby. Beveridge and The Progressive Era, Claude G. Bowers.

The Letters of Archie Butt, Abbott. My Russian Venture, Mrs. Cecil Chesterton.

Pioneer Days in Arizona, Lochmond. The Epic of America, Adams. Coronado's Children, Dobie. Gladstone and Palmerston, Edited by Phillip Guedalla.

The Dreyfus Affair, Kayser. King Arthur and His Knights, Sir James Knowles.

Treasure Island, Robert Louis Stevenson.

Under the direction of Miss Felicia Finnegan, the librarian, information and post card files are being compiled. When completed, they will contain views of the whole world together with the description and the history of each place. A reference file of book covers is also being made by Miss Finnegan. It will contain an account of the life of the author and criticisms or reviews of his works. These will undoubtedly be of great help as well as of interest to the students.

Mary E. McNamara, College Class of '31 presented the following books to the library: Latin Dictionary; Horace, Odes, and Epodes; Livy Books I, XXI, XXII; Cicero's Essays.

The students are observing National Picture Week by studying the works of American artists. There is an exhibit of these works in the library.

The Rev. Tighe, Celebrant;
Rev. Healy Delivers
Opening Address*200 STUDENTS AT THE MASS*College Choir Sings Beautiful Hymns;
Sister Victorine Accompanies
On the Organ

The school year was formally opened in the college chapel at 8:30 on Thursday morning, October 5, with the celebration of the Mass of the Holy Ghost. Approximately 200 students attended the mass. The Reverend Arthur Tighe, chaplain at St. Teresa College was the celebrant. After mass and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the Reverend Clifford Healy, assistant at the Visitation church, briefly addressed the students. The following hymns were sung by the college choir with Sister Victorine as organist:

Ave Marie ..... Montani
Gentle St. Joseph ..... Dewett
A Message to the Sacred Heart ....

..... Montani
Angel So Holy ..... Notre Dame Hymnal
Benediction

O Esca Viatorum ..... Traditional
Tantum Ergo ..... Dubois
Holy God ..... Traditional

Father Healy reminded the students of the play "The Real American Girl," which they so successfully staged last June, and urged each student to be a "Real Catholic Girl." The speaker drew a word picture of such a girl—a whole-souled, happy girl who is not a prude but one who has the courage to live and act according to the teaching of her faith; one who is Catholic enough to follow the examples of purity, self-sacrifice, and other virtues set her by Our Blessed Mother and the great Saint Teresa.

Father Healy called attention to St. Teresa's sincere interest in each student enrolled in the schools which bear her name, and closed his address with an earnest appeal to each student to read and meditate upon the life of St. Teresa with a view of imitating her virtues and of meriting her patronage in life and in death.

MOTHER MARCELLA
IS NEW PRESIDENT*Mother Marietta Is Now in New York;
Several Other Changes Made In Faculty

The opening school term of 1933-1934 witnessed several changes in the faculty. Mother Marietta, president of the college for the past six years, is now studying at Columbia University, New York City. Mother Marcella, formerly registrar and head of the English department, has replaced her as president.

Sister Gonzaga has been assigned the duties of registrar in Mother Marcella's place.

Sister Giles, who was professor of physiology, has gone to Arizona to recover from an attack of arthritis. Her classes have been discontinued.

Reverend Arthur M. Tighe succeeds Reverend Mathias Knespler as professor of religion. Father Knespler is now in Joplin, Missouri.

Sister Agnes Frances has replaced Mother Marcella as teacher of English in the Academy.

The foods and nutrition course in the college is conducted by Miss Gieger, dietitian at St. Joseph Hospital.

Sister Armella was recently welcomed to the college as a new member of the faculty.

THE TERESIAN PLATFORM

1. To uphold the traditions of St. Teresa 1867-
2. To page philanthropy with a view of building the much needed Science Building.
3. To promote the physical, civic and moral welfare of the students and of the community.
4. To tighten the bonds of affection and of interest between the Alumnae and their Alma Mater.

A TRIBUTE

In the event of Mother Marietta's expiration of office and the installation of Mother Marcella as president of the college, the recent opening of the school term witnessed changes regretted and welcomed. Mother Marietta was an esteemed member of the faculty, and was loved by all who knew her. Those of us who were privileged to know her intimately, have perhaps a better appreciation of her sincerity of thought, her truthfulness of purpose, and her great aim to see the dream of St. Teresa as a foremost Catholic College become a reality. It was through her efforts that the Mothers' Guild, which has proved to be such a source of support and strength to the school, was organized. Mother Marietta commanded the love and respect of every one with whom she came in contact. Her going has left an emptiness in the hearts of all.

However, the appointment of Sister M. Marcella as Superior was one eagerly and gratefully received, for, as a member of the faculty in former years, she is already well-known and loved by the students of St. Teresa. Therefore, it was not with the sense of returning to a new leadership that the former students resumed school this fall; it was rather with a feeling of home-coming, a fitting tribute to the genuine love that the girls have for Mother Marcella. All students welcome her as their new guardian, and wish her many blessings and graces from God to help her in her new office as president of St. Teresa College.

THE STUDENT AND THE PAPER

It is often the case that those who have the ability to write editorials or other articles for the school paper shirk their responsibility because of the extra effort it demands. Of course working on a school paper necessitates the spending of a large amount of time in such duties as writing, typing, proof-reading, and the securing of advertisements. If one possesses talent in such fields, she should, out of justice to herself and loyalty to her school, use it to advantage.

The benefits derived from such an enterprise repay the student concerned many times over. The practice which she receives in the preparation of her contributions, greatly aids her in her study of English. It brings out originality in some, and creates it in others. One closely associated with the school press is naturally and almost unconsciously trained to be keenly alert and observant for news. Any participation in this kind of work is valuable experience for the future, and it is especially advantageous for any one who is particularly interested in journalism.

This work is profitable, too, because it forces one to have a systematic plan for all outside study in order to have time for this extra pursuit. Willingness to cooperate and to practice self-sacrifice is thus shown.

The school itself comes in for its share of the benefits. Through the paper, the students and faculty are brought into a closer relationship with one another. Unity is increased between the college and high school departments since one part of the school is able to have an account of what the other is doing. The students of the various classes, besides those of the two departments, become better acquainted. In this way, the student body is kept informed concerning all academic news, and school spirit is increased. By means of an attractive paper, the progress made by the school and its members is placed before the public and their interest is thus secured.

Why not gather pencil and paper right now, and start immediately on a contribution for the next issue of The Teresian?

HELP!

The ever present cry the world over now is "Give." Pleas for donations to causes of every type and description are about the only things that can really be counted on in these disturbed times. But this particular admonition to support the Bazaar is not just another one of those general charities where the donor gives his money with a righteous feeling of generosity for his only reward. It is a very personal and pressing duty of every St. Teresa girl. It is not often that the students are asked to support a project of such importance, all the more reason that cooperation in this case ought to be the unanimously generous response.

The heating plant of the school, now about twenty years old, is irreparably damaged and must be replaced. It is to raise funds to finance this necessary improvement that the Bazaar is to be given. The returns will go far toward defraying the expense.

Since the Bazaar will not take place before the first of December, the plans are not completed as yet. They will be published in the November issue of "The Teresian." For the present, it is enough to know what is to be expected and to enter into the preliminary preparations with the right spirit, the cooperative spirit that will insure a success.

PROVE YOUR PRIDE

School spirit is an important factor in the life of every student. This virtue, if thus it can be termed, may be expressed by various acts, such as by attendance at, or participation in, school activities, or by supporting all athletic teams. There is, however, an easier way by which one may manifest her loyalty. This may be shown by the mere cooperation of the individual student with the faculty in keeping the school in proper order. This is possible if, and only if, each and every girl will take it upon herself to see that she does all in her power to keep the school neat and to influence others to follow her example.

In connection with the disposal of papers and all unwanted property, each should make a special effort to be more careful. Containers for rubbish are conveniently placed throughout the building; all that is needed is a reminder to do the correct thing, and to practice thoughtfulness at the right time. No one would think of casually dropping or throwing papers around her own home, and it would be well if everyone possessed the same instinct in the appearance of her school. If this interest is cultivated perseveringly, every student will have reason to be proud of her Alma Mater. Any neatness or untidiness reflects directly, either favorably or unfavorably, as the case may be, upon the members of the school.

In consideration of these facts, let every student resolve to start immediately to do her part in keeping all corridors and other sections of the building in as attractive an appearance as possible.

A CALL TO ARMS

Fellow Freshmen, the sophomore menace has descended upon us. Let every lowly freshman look to the defense. Grasp your wagon handle firmly in hand, don your vegetable necktie with a gesture of intent purpose, and prepare for action. You'll probably get enough of it. Let the campaign cry be a resounding "Pull for dear old S. T. C." Whither your sophomore goest, so pull you.

Let it not be said that the Freshmen of '33 couldn't take it!

TERESIAN ADVERTISING PAYS

There are at least seven reasons why it pays to advertise in The Teresian, the St. Teresa College and Academy newspaper:

- (1) Because the students and their parents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends are interested in this paper.
- (2) When these people read this paper they are in a good-natured and receptive mood.
- (3) They read the ads because they are not crowded out with reading matter.
- (4) This paper is printed on enamel stock and it is kept and referred to over and over again long after publication.
- (5) Advertising in The Teresian secures the good will and the patronage of the students and patrons of the College.
- (6) This paper is sent to and circulated in over one hundred institutions through its Student and School Exchange Department.
- (7) It has a circulation of 350 copies. This means, making a very conservative estimate, at least 3,500 readers.

Hence advertising in this paper, considering the rates, is both economical and very practical.

Ordinary advertising in this paper brings very satisfactory results. Display advertising will bring still better results.

Try a display ad in The Teresian. You will be delighted with the results.

Alumnae

The Alumnae wish to announce that they will sponsor a card party, October 28, at the Plaza branch of the Kansas City Gas Company.

The Missouri State Chapter of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae will hold its convention on November 4 and 5, at the Baltimore Hotel. The St. Teresa delegates will be Mrs. Emmet Brosanahan and Miss Virginia Flanagan.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, Jr. announce the birth, August 17, of a son whom they have named Frank Marqua. Mrs. Smith is the former Mary Marqua.

The marriage of Miss Mary Margaret Killiger and Mr. Maurice O'Sullivan took place Saturday, September 30, at Redemptorist. Mrs. O'Sullivan is an Alumna of St. Teresa College.

Miss Mary Catherine Kerns and Miss Eleanor Mueller-Thym are continuing their college work at Fontbonne College this fall. Both are members of the Class of '33.

In Memoriam

The faculty, students and the Alumnae of St. Teresa College extend their sincere sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. Harry Duncan, who died September 28.

Mrs. Duncan was Dorothy Baxter, a graduate in the Class of 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weideman announce the birth, September 13, of a daughter whom they have named Mary Alice. Mrs. Weideman, before her marriage, was Alice Schweiger.

The marriage of Miss Edna Mae Vitt to Mr. George Meiners, Jr. took place August 31, at Annunciation Church. Miss Frances Fisher was the maid of honor, and Miss Annabel Shannon was the bridesmaid. Mrs. Meiners, Miss Fisher and Miss Shannon are members of the Academy Class of '32.

The Misses Josephine and Alice Purcell have left the city with their family for a permanent residence in St. Louis. Josephine is attending St. Louis University; Alice is a student at St. Frances Xavier High School.

Miss Marian Newcomer and Miss Alma Jane Wirthman are attending St. Mary of the Woods College, St. Mary of the Woods, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moffet announce the birth of a daughter, Geraldine Patricia. Mrs. Moffet is the former Marie Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Smith announce the birth of a daughter, whom they have named Barbara Grace. Mrs. Smith was formerly Anna Mae Hogan.

The Misses Mary Harrington, Catherine McGinley, Ann Elizabeth Darby, Mary Ronnau, Mary Agnes Klughart and Katherine Luby are attending the new University of Kansas City.

Miss Justine Carey is now teaching the second grade at Our Lady of Good Council parochial school.

The marriage of Miss Velma Beard to Mr. Robert Ross took place August 30, in San Francisco, California.

Miss Eleanor McGaw left September 6, to join the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet.

Alumnae meetings are held the third Monday of every month.

"THE EPIC OF AMERICA"

James Truslow Adams

(Little-Brown and Company, 131st Edition $3.75)

"The Epic of America" according to Harry Emerson Wildes is, "the most intelligent, the most brilliant and most lucid survey of the nation that we're likely to see in many moons." It is the story of the American people—a panorama of American life from Columbus to Roosevelt. The work is not just a mere conglomeration of dates, campaigns and battles, but a brilliant canvas of the more momentous episodes in the growth of our nation. It portrays the influences which shaped the character of the people, and the spirit which has brought them through crises of the past and the present.

Mr. Adams has given this book a rare power and a marked vigor and directness of style. It should be read by every literate American.

The author, James Truslow Adams, first rose to eminence with his three-volume History of New England; his "The Adams Family" was one of the outstanding books of 1930. He is among the most distinguished American Historians of to-day.

—Dorothy McManus.

"BEVERIDGE AND THE PROGRESSIVE ERA."

Claude G. Bowers

(Houghton Mifflin Co. $5.00)

Unlike Adams' "The Epic of America" which is a narrative history of the people of our country, Claude Bowers' latest work is a political history from the Spanish War to the years following the World War. The book is based upon the career of the late Albert J. Beveridge. It is the life story of that fighting statesman in the lustiest period in recent American politics. These years witnessed the rise of imperialism; the organization of the powerful industrial and financial combination; the beginning of the disintegration of political parties; the spirit of insurgency; the World War, and the hectic battles over the problems that followed in its wake.

Senator Beveridge played a conspicuous part in the making of history during these years. He was the first prominent leader of the Progressive Party to meet the assaults upon the trusts with a militant defense; and among the first to realize the necessity for governmental regulation.

Beveridge was one of the most brilliant defenders of Theodore Roosevelt during the latter's term of presidency. He was the floor leader of the small group of men that fought so vigorously against the Payne-Aldrich tariff of 1909.

Mr. Bowers has gone through hundreds of letters and notes to uncover fascinating new material. Perhaps the most vital portions of the volume are those which portray the intimate relations between President Roosevelt and Senator Beveridge.

The dynamic character of the subject matter makes the book intensely interesting from the first page to the last.

—Dorothy McManus.

Sports Comment

It's time once more for the intramural games of the academy, always an important event in the athletic calendar of the year. The size of the gym classes this year necessitates the division of each into two or three squads. By this plan, every girl is given a chance where only the athletic minority participated before. Field hockey is scheduled for the senior and junior squads, and soccer for the sophomores and freshmen.

The freshmen will face additional competition in meeting the soccer team of the Visitation school, which is coached by Dorothy Dugan, a junior at St. Teresa. This group was organized and has been directed by Dorothy for the last year. Two of the seniors will also make their debut this season as coaches of parish basketball teams. Florence Bodde has been asked to work with the St. Francis girls, and Charline Dorney will organize the team at St. Theresa of the Little Flower grade school. There ought to be interesting rivalry when these teams meet in the parochial league this winter. Incidentally, the very fact that St. Teresa girls have been entrusted with this responsible work, pays a compliment to the reputation of the school in athletics and to the ability of the individual girls.

No doubt the inter-class games will take on a more interesting and certainly a more enjoyable aspect in the future. Miss Hill and Miss Finnegan have expressed a desire to display their ability to "carry the stick." Lucky is the team that will share the added attraction of the presence of these two stars.

To date, basketball has not occupied a very important place in the college. The few spasmodic attempts that have been made to organize a team have never been very long-lived. Lack of suitable competition has also been a serious handicap, but the outlook is brighter this year. Miss Brooks declares:

"The material for a college basketball team looks very promising both in quality and quantity. With some of our own academy 'stars' now in college, and the new players from other city high school teams here—well—just see for yourself in about two months. Very likely there will be a trip to St. Louis if the team proves its ability to meet such strong competition as the St. Louis teams are in the habit of providing. At any rate, the coach's dream of a tall basketball team has materialized."

Hockey Meets

Seniors vs. Juniors

The first Senior-Junior hockey game of the season was played Friday, October 6, at 3:30. Although it was a close game, the Juniors were outplayed by a score of 2 to 1. Geneva Putthoff was the outstanding player, credited with both goals.

Juniors vs. Seniors

The second hockey game of the series between the Seniors and Juniors played Friday afternoon, October 13, resulted in a 6 to 0 victory for the former. Florence Bodde captained the winning squad and Margaret Dorney led the Juniors. The high scoring for the game was made by Margaret Anwender who tallied four goals. The additional two were scored by Charline Dorney.

RUSH PARTIES INAUGURATE ST. TERESA FALL SEASON

Bridges, teas, suppers, and many other social affairs are starting off the annual sorority rush season. After a summer of idleness, sororities once again resume their activities, and scan the horizon for likely new members. Possible candidates have been selected from both college and high school students, and as the days of pledging draw to a close, there is an undercurrent of excitement and uncertainty. The vogue is for parties, parties, and more parties!

At a meeting held Sunday, October 8, at the home of Mary Elizabeth McNamara, members of the Alpha Chapter of Lambda Gamma Chi decided to wait until the spring rush season for new rushees.

Wednesday, September 27, Miss Dorothy Gamage entertained with an evening bridge in compliment to the rushees of Lambda Gamma Chi, Beta Chapter. On Saturday, September 30, the sorority gave a luncheon on the roof garden of the Hotel Kansas Citian. Following this, the Lambdas gave a party Wednesday, October 4, at the home of Miss Mary Virginia and Miss Martha Downey, at which they announced the acquisition of the following girls as pledges: Miss Marjorie Gleeson, Miss Dorothy Flynn, Miss Marguerite Lodde, Miss Dorothy Dugan, Miss Betty McKee, Miss Lorraine Wheeler, Miss Shirley Gier, and Miss Betty Wasson.

The Chi Mu sorority entertained with a rush tea Sunday afternoon, October 8. They have not formally announced their pledges.

The Chi Alpha sorority's rush season will not begin until the latter part of November. December 26 has been chosen as the date of their annual Christmas party to be held at the Kansas City Club.

Basketball Practice

Practice for the academy basketball team began on Tuesday afternoon, October 17.

Miss Betty Hickox, star forward of the Academy team for the last four years, will aid Miss Brooks as assistant basketball coach this season. She is a freshman in the college.

Sophomores vs. Freshmen

A victory of 1 to 0 was scored by the sophomore soccer team over their freshmen rivals in the first tournament game, October 11. Helen Jane Dugan made the only goal. The captains of the two teams were Eleanor Hauber, sophomore, and Rita Dobil, freshman. The surprising ability shown by both teams made a close and interesting game.

Walking Delegate

Greetings! Here we are beginning another year. We hope to please you as much as the Ex-Walking Delegate did. Walter Winchell had better beware.

We have found further proof of the depression, if any is needed. Two dignified Seniors entered the dime store for the sole purpose of purchasing a penny's worth of candy. Oh, these Seniors!

Can you tell us what it is that makes a certain Senior faint so readily? Maybe she just can't take it. Warning—do not faint in a certain teacher's class, for if you do, you may be left lying prone on the floor.

Help! Help! Call Sherlock Holmes. Miss Seested needs him to find her place in "Livre Francais."

A certain airplane at the United Air Lines didn't come in October 9, much to the sorrow of one of our Seniors. What could be detaining him? Could it be one of those Georgian blondes? Let's hope not.

From the way Miss Rogers speeds through French, it appears that someone ought to furnish her with a race track.

The art studio has been for days littered with bits of cream colored paper. One class of artists have been making stencil designs to apply to towels, boxes, and book ends. The beginners in art are learning the color combinations, basic form and the art of making fascinating designs and borders.

Well, "that's that," and we'll have to be leaving you now. More gossip next time.

COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

The election of officers in the St. Teresa College Student Council was held Tuesday, October 3, at the initial meeting of the year. Miss Mary Louise Mendus, a sophomore, was chosen president. Miss Earline Davis was elected vice-president, Miss Catherine Ann Murphy, secretary, and Miss Jane Dugan, treasurer.

Miss Josephine Stauch, an officer of the Student Council last year, presided as temporary chairman at the meeting.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE CLUBS

The "scientific" Juniors, under the sponsorship of Sister Hortense, have organized a science club, which they have christened the S. O. S. (Seekers of Science). The requirements of membership is subscription to Current Science, a weekly paper relating all the recent happenings of the scientific world.

On Tuesday, October 10, the club, accompanied by Sister Hortense, took a field trip to Lake Hiawassa. The cars were provided by Dorothy Dugan and Betty McKee. The party reached the lake about 9:45 a. m. The "victims" of these scientific searchers were many and various. Snails, minnows, caterpillars, water spiders, a water hyacinth, and the "best catch of them all," a catfish, lost their freedom in the cause of science.

Declaring that the trip was a most interesting experiment, the class left the lake at 10:15 a. m.

The first meeting of the club was held Thursday, October 5, during a class period. Margaret Dorney presided. An interesting assortment of Indian pottery, collected from Arizona and New Mexico, large bugs and beetles from South America, and fish scales from a tarpon caught in Texas, were displayed before an attentive class. The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 2. Emelie O'Flaherty will preside.

STUDENT HEALTH CHECKED

The annual health examination was conducted last Thursday, October 12, in the college and academy, by Dr. Joseph P. Brennan, Jackson County Health Commissioner. He was assisted by Mr. R. J. Rollins, and Miss Margaret Dougherty, R. N. and Miss Helena Dunham, R. N.

All students were examined to determine their standing with regard to: vision, hearing, posture, teeth, throat, weight, and height.

A report of each student's examination will be sent to the college office; pupils registering defects will be advised to correct them.

A health certificate will be awarded to those pupils holding a perfect record.

STUDENT COUNCIL ACTIVE

The first meeting of the Student Government of St. Teresa Academy was held in the school auditorium, Tuesday, September 19.

The main object of the meeting was to acquaint the new students with this organization, its purpose and duties, and to introduce the officers.

Stress was laid on the fact that the Student Council assists the faculty in maintaining order in the school and that the individual cooperation of every girl is necessary to its success. After a few announcements were made the meeting was adjourned.

Change! Change! Ceaseless change! That is the spice of fashion. That is why we follow it; it is never monotonous. After depleting our stock of ideas we begin anew. At this time we have returned to the styles of 1900, following the curves of the figures from that period, especially in our afternoon and evening dresses. In varying degrees, this curve or, as you will hear it called "the moulded figure," is the trend throughout the mode for the winter of 1933.

It seems as though Yankee Doodle must have ridden through the streets of Paris lately and dropped his feather; either that or Cupid has lost his bow, for every hat has the unredeemable feature of a perky bow or a jaunty feather.

In the last few days since Jack Frost has honored us by a visit, we are all thinking seriously of a winter coat. If we are not so fortunate as to be in a position to obtain a new coat, vogue suggests we have our last year's fur coat remodeled into one of the swagger style carrying a bright lining. As a color scheme it is proposed that we take a hint from the traffic signs, excluding the caution. A bright blue would also be very complimentary and smart with most all furs. To complete this ensemble a small hat of one of the new felts would be ideal. Have you noticed the attractive models in Elizabeth Nash's window?

In keeping with our reputation of "moderns" we must boost our President in his latest movement, the N. R. A., by purchasing something we can possibly afford—to keep the wheels of industry running and bring back a happy prosperity.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

The St. Teresa Glee Club held its initial meeting for 1933-34, Monday, September 25. The object of the meeting was the election of officers. The following girls were chosen: Dorothy Dugan, president; Shirley Gier, vice-president; Merideth Dyer, secretary; Frances Wagner, treasurer; Barbara O'Sullivan, librarian; and Ruth Dugan, assistant librarian.

Sister Victorine, head of the music department, is director of the club.

PERSONALS

Dorothy Flynn recently returned from a short stay at the University of Kansas.

Mother Irene, former Superior at St. Teresa College, was a welcome visitor at the school, on Wednesday, September 20.

After an illness of two weeks Jeanne Gier has again resumed her studies.

Stasia McNamara and Suzanne Engleman were recent visitors at the Chicago World's Fair.

Sister Louis Joseph, Director of Music, at Carondelet, St. Louis, Missouri, recently visited the Sisters of the college.

Catherine Kilty, a former college student, has temporarily discontinued her studies.

HIGH RATING IN NATIONAL CONTEST TERESA'S GOAL

DEBATE TURNOUT GOOD

Adoption of Radio Legislation Like British Control Suggested As Debate Subject

With the intention of rating as high as possible in the national high school debate contests, representatives of the various classes of the Academy have enthusiastically resumed the study of debating. The first meeting of this year's team was held in room 6, Wednesday, September 20. The question for the '33-'34 season is: "Resolved, That the federal government should enact legislation providing for the regulation of radio communication similar to that of Great Britain."

An increase in interest for debating has been shown at the Academy this year. Twelve girls came out for the team this year; seven were present at the first meeting last year.

High schools throughout the country have accepted the suggestion of the Committee on Education by Radio, Washington, D. C., to debate the merits of the American versus the British broadcasting system.

"The Debate Handbook on Radio Control and Operation" has been issued to aid the students. Arguments against the American plan were prepared by Joy Elmer Morgan of the National Committee on Education by Radio. The arguments in favor of the American broadcasting were prepared by Dr. Herman S. Hettinger of the Wharton School of Commerce and Finance, also a representative of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Mr. Morgan says: "The advocates of the new American plan for radio do not contend that the British system is perfect in every detail nor do they contend that there may not have been errors and weaknesses in administration at this point or that, but they do maintain that the fundamental principles are sound, that there has been steady growth and improvement in the application of those principles, and that, after careful trial, the system is accepted and preferred by the British people; whereas, during a similar period of time in the United

STUDENTS FORM CLUB

The older members of the Sodality Unit formed a dramatic club, Tuesday, October 3. They are working on a play, "The End of the Rainbow." Susan Maloney is dramatic director, and Betty McKee and Mary Jane Napier are music directors.

At the first meeting of the club, the following program was presented: The Voyage of Columbus—A Modern Version.....

.....Shirley Gier, Lorraine Wheeler A Pantomime.....Jane Miller The Highwayman.....Frances Sugrue George Washington.....Margaret Dorney

At the request of Miss Piatt the club is attempting a program to be given at the home for negro delinquents.

States, there has been increasing confusion, criticism, and dissatisfaction with our radio practice."

Dr. Hettinger at the conclusion of fifty-five pages in defense of American broadcasting said: "It seems that it is not only impractical, and—from the point of view of public opinion and ideas regarding broadcasting—inadvisable to adopt the essential features of the British System of radio operation and control, but it is also completely unnecessary."

The members of this year's team are: Frances Sugrue, Jane O'Gara, Mary Catherine Eagen, Laurel O'Leary, Margaret Parker, Charline Dorney, Geneva Putthoff, Dorothy Dugan, Shirley Gier, and Betty McKee. The girls who debated last year won five out of eight debates. They were: Dorothy Dugan, Frances Sugrue, and Betty McKee on the Affirmative; Jane O'Gara and Mary Agnes Klughardt on the Negative. With these girls and the new members, excellent results are expected of this year's team.

Teresian Tatler

Another year . . . millions of things already happened in this short month, yet here I sit racking my brain (such futility) how to express it so that it might be interpreted by the reading public. Some of the most recent observations by ye ever dependable Tatler . . . M. Franey's unfailing display of stupidity at the most inopportune times . . . Kathryn Gilkerson's apparent amusement in that Foods class . . . A Freshman and Sophomore with grey suits, always wearing them on the same days (which is practically every day) . . . Rush Week, everybody being very impressive . . . Some of the celebrities of hereabouts seen at the first Cardinal. Mrs. George Meiners (Edna Mae Vitt) looking quite settled . . . Rockhurst College displaying the latest things in men. Anyhow, they supply a goodly amount of outside diversion for some of the students over here . . . Rumors that the Freshmen are to play the part of a low-bred canine for the amusement of the upper classmen. The effect should be natural, to say the least . . . From all indications over the campus this seems to be a rather slack season among the chivalrous sex . . . Found among the mail (just to prove we have some) Dear Santa Claus . . . and Christmas is how many days away?

The average intelligence rating of the school decreased about 50 percent on overhearing this prattle the other day. Said conversationalists were discussing the type of man they would prefer if they had their choice. Thus ran the conversation, "I like the real masculine type of man," said one, "a cowboy or a prizefighter. You know I've always adored Mussolini. He has such a perfect physique" and they call it Miss Bristle's School in the Briarpatch. Don't forget that dance on the twenty-fifth . . . and most of all don't forget to bring somebody to dance with . . . the whole place can't be filled with gigolettes.
